

Paul Richmond is a great friend and partner for all those who seek a better life. His legal counsel, steady-handedness, and political insight have been a great asset for those working for peace, and a restoration of Constitutional law in our nation. He is generous with his time, and has a keen ability to think through the consequences of actions.

As a pastor and an advocate for peace and justice I am grateful for folks like Paul who so faithfully, and graciously give of their time, talent and treasure for the common good. When a group of us formed Freedom From Fear in an attempt to offer hope in a time of war, Paul Richmond, as he repeatedly has done for the peace movement, offered us valuable legal counsel and wisdom. Paul Richmond believes that commonwealth is more important than segregated wealth. He believes that cooperation is more powerful than domination. And he believes that the thoughtful citizen is a moral citizen capable of building a better world where everyone can survive and thrive.

Paul Richmond is part of the change we need in Congress. A vote for Paul Richmond is a vote for a better America.
